From the “Battle of the BBQs” to Home Improvement, Northwesterners can see all the latest for the home at Seattle Home Show 2

From all the latest in outdoor grills to free art and antique appraisals by star appraiser Dr. Lori, from landscaping to the latest interior design trends, Northwesterners can see all that’s hot for the home when Seattle Home Show 2 opens its doors October 19 – 21st at CenturyLink Field Event Center. The fall version of the nation’s oldest and largest consumer home show is celebrating its 20th anniversary.

As we approach this year’s show, home improvement is big, consumer confidence is high and modern design continues to dominate, say Seattle Home Show 2 exhibitors, who represent some of the leading building, design and landscaping professionals in the region. Mid-century modern, with its clean lines and neutral colors, particularly whites and greys, are especially popular right now in the Northwest. All these trends and more can be seen at this year’s show.

“Whether you are a homeowner or renter, Seattle Home Show 2 is a great place to see the newest products and trends, in a single location,” said Mike Kalian, executive director.

“It is a truly a one-stop shopping venue for your home improvement needs.”

Among the highlights of the Seattle Home Show 2 is the “Battle of the BBQs,” a three-day cook-off where chefs compete to raise money for charity by cooking their best recipes using outdoor grills. A variety of grill types, from gas and charcoal to infrared and smokers, will be featured. Attendees are invited to sample the food and cast their votes for their favorite. Each day’s winner will receive a $500 donation to the charity of their choice. Grills used during the competition will be sold and proceeds donated to Habitat for Humanity. In addition, every new grill sold during the show, Aqua Quip, BECU and the Seattle Home Show will donate $100 to Habitat for Humanity.

Returning to Seattle Home Show 2 is star antiques appraiser Dr. Lori of History channel's The Curse of Oak Island, Discovery channel's Auction Kings and FOX Business Network's Strange Inheritance. Dr. Lori will demonstrate to show visitors her amazing skills at appraising art, antiques and collectibles twice daily each day of the show. Show visitors are encouraged to bring in their own art, antiques and collectibles for Dr. Lori to appraise on the spot. Dr. Lori appears at 11 AM and 2PM each day. One item per show time but show visitors can attend multiple shows with additional items.

Other highlights of this year’s show include:

- Outdoor Living Area with Wine & Beer Garden, created by Malone’s Landscape Design Build, featuring the latest in outdoor living and landscaping including a wine and beer garden where show visitors can sample their favorite wines and beers while listening to live music
- “She Shed” by Aurora Quality Buildings
- Daily cooking demos by well-known local chefs
- Daily “Meet the Experts” seminar series sponsored by Matvey Foundation Repair
- One-year subscription to Better Homes & Gardens Magazine with ticket purchase.
